

Special Operations Tactical Tracking Institute LLC

“Home of the Scout-Tracker”

The Special Operations Tactical Tracking Institute (SOTTI) was founded by Troy A. Lettieri a Special Forces operator with 18 years of experience in special warfare and an established man-tracking expert.

SOTTI is a unique and cutting edge school established to respond to the demand for professional training that produces trackers that specializes in the art and science of human tracking (man-tracking) for military, law enforcement or civilian applications.

SOTTI offers a range of formal classes and courses in tactical/combat tracking and rural small unit tactics for military and law enforcement agencies. This instruction covers sensitive tactics, techniques and procedures.

As well SOTTI offers a selection of training geared for civilians in human tracking, awareness, observation, stalking, bushcraft, navigation and scout skills as used by the Native American Indians, Kalahari and Aboriginal Bushmen as well as the world’s elite Special Operations Forces. These courses and classes are ideally suited for naturalist, survivalist, SAR personnel, hunters or anyone interested in primitive skills and living. We offer these classes because we recognize that many individuals also wish to incorporate human tracking as part of their skills-sets to enhance there outdoors experience.

INTENSIVE/ONE-TO-ONE INSTRUCTION OPTION

GENERAL INFORMATION

All of SOTTI classes and courses as well as custom program of instruction is available in this option of instruction upon request. The prices vary depending on length of training, type of training and location. For example for 2-7 days is 800.00 up to 3000.00 dollars (USD). This does not generally include expenses for travel and lodging if involved for instructor or student. This method provides the student with intensive one on one instruction and focused attention and ready available instructors for all needs.

TRACKER CHALLENGE “OPERATION BLAZING-PURSUIT”

GENERAL INFORMATION

This is a scenario based exercise for tracking teams of 4-8 trackers. Generally it is a follow-up that lasts three days with field living conditions, tracking a quarry for an extended distance in various terrain and conditions in all weather. This is set to be a challenge with little external help from instructors. It is not meant to be an instruction oriented class. But the instructors will mentor the trackers along the way. The trackers must have some formal tracker training from an institute of tracking (On Point, Tracker School, UTS, JHPTS, and others). Contact us with the background of your team of trackers for an assessment. The only reason for this is that this is an expensive endeavor and do not want anyone to waste their money and time.

DURATION	PREREQUISITES	COST	REMARKS
2 ½ days follow-up.	Formal Training and or experience required.	500.00	Class size is limited to 4 minimum and 8 maximum. Will be camp/primitive living.
